WOMAN CONSIDERED A PRIZE

Servian Wives Have Distinct Value, and Rivalry for Their Hands Is Keen.

W. Y. Morgan, in a travel letter to the Hutchinson News, writes from Belgrade: "Leap year with its incidental advantages is not needed in Servia. A girl here does not take a dowry but is considered a prize to be paid for. Marriages are not made for love but because the man needs help. It is no trick at all for a woman to get married if she is stout and healthy, and in fact she will be snapped up first and ahead of a pretty girl by the wise Servian father who selects the helpmate for his son. On a little farm there is no use for machinery and no call for hired hands. The family does all the work and does not have to strain its backs very much in the doing. Where the wants are little the supplying of them is not difficult. The Servian gents have time for war and the women for embroidery. All are happy and comfortable and do not worry about pure food laws and individual drinking cups. They never have appendicitis or operations and they live more contentedly and longer than many who do."—Kansas City Star.

WORLD IS AMERICAN MARKET

Products of the United States to Be Found in Every Country of the Earth.

Wanted, the name of a country in which you cannot hear the buzz of an American sewing machine or hear the click of an American typewriter. You might as easily find one as name the land where the soil has not yet felt the pressure of the American automobile. Last year we sent aeroplanes to Japan, Australia, Brazil, France, Germany, Russia and other countries. As for our plows, they turn up the brown earth in no fewer than 80 countries and bring us in a trifle of $7,000,000, while the return we derive from mowers and reapers is something like $17,000,000. If the god Pan should be discovered in a sequestered glade of Thessaly he would probably be brandishing a reaping hook from some city in the middle west and, if his godship has taken to the use of breakfast food, he doubtless helps in the payment of the $2,000,000 which we are receiving annually for confections of this kind. If you go by railroad, whether you travel in Peru or Africa, you journey in American cars.

UP TO LITTLE HAROLD.

Little Susie—Let's play house-keeping. You be the papa and I'll be the mamma.

Little Harold—Aw, what's the use. We won't get started good before you'll commence crying.

Little Susie—No, I won't. Just you play nice, Harold, and don't bang the table and slam the doors.

POOR PRINCE.

"Lived in the Latin Quarter, eh? You say you had a prince in your rooms one day?"

"Yes."

"And how did you happen to receive a visit from royalty?"

"He came in there to avoid his landlord."—Washington Herald.

LIBERAL CONTRIBUTION.

Visiting Philanthropist—Good morning, madame; I am collecting for the Drunkards' home.

Mrs. Patrick—Sure, I'm glad of it, sor—if you come around tonight you can have my husband.—Successful Farming.

UP AND DOWN.

"I'm going to get married soon and settle down," remarked young Debtleigh.

"All very well," replied his tailor, "but I'm far more interested in learning when you're going to settle up!"

THE SENSATION.

Knieker—These are said to be times of great moral uplift.

Bocker—I know it; but I don't like to ride in an elevator all the time.—Judge.

NOTHING NEW.

"The vacuum system seems now to be applied to everything."

"Quite so. I know a number of people who even think with it."

HIS METHOD.

"How is it that author has acquired such a bubbling style?"

"I don't know; but I guess he uses a fountain pen."

Hopkinsville Residents Must Learn The Importance of Keeping Them Well.

What this remedy has done in so many cases of this kind is the best proof of its merits.

Read the following. It's testimony gratefully given an Earlington resident.

J. W. Almon, Earlington, Ky., says: "My kidneys were weak and I had to get up at night to pass the kidney secretions. When I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills, I began taking them. They relieved me in a short time. One box completely cured me. I have never been bothered with kidney trouble since."

New York, Oct. 31.—About 84 tons of gold in the United States sub-treasury on Wall street, guarded night and day by a small army of watchmen and a battery of machine guns is being counted by nine men from the treasury department. Between 2,500 and 3,000 tons of silver also being counted, as well as several million dollars in bills and a few tons of nickels and coppers.

The task was begun Tuesday and will keep nine skilled men busy for three weeks. At the end of that time they are expected to inform Martin Vogle, assistant United States treasurer, that he has $171,103,280 12 of government funds in his keeping.

Many questions have been submitted to officials here which will be taken up by the conference.

DEFIANCE FROM A DISTANCE

Discomfited Bully Certainly Gave His Adversary What Might Be Called Fair and Proper Warning.

Many of the best Pennsylvania stories come from the lumber camps. This bit of rough-and-ready history was told in a hotel lobby by a visitor to Philadelphia from the great West Branch valley of the Susquehanna: "Paddy Wood was the porter at the Glarlicky house in my town. He was a mark for mischievous boys who found that he would chase them if properly baited. He had a board about five feet long which he promised to use on his tormentors, thus adding to the spice of danger to the sport.

"One summer evening Paddy Wood sat on a bench in front of the tavern, his board leaning within easy reach against the building. Paddy Plank, a swaggering woodsman, with numerous raw or 'natural' whiskies under his belt, hove in sight. He stopped in the road, fumbled for his woodstock pipe for several minutes and was a longer time lighting it. The woodstock pipe was a cavalier affair usually smoked with the bowl turned down by men who affected bravado. It was not the pipe of peace, however, for the moment Paddy Plank's orb sighted Paddy Wood he discovered that his system craved a little Kilkenny fun and he began to hand Paddy Wood some choice compliments, such as are usually set afloat when one is looking for trouble.

"Paddy Wood deliberately arose from the bench, picked up his board and smote Paddy Plank on the jaw, knocking his pipe across the lot, the sparks from which described an arc of fire like a rocket.

"Surprised at the speed of Paddy Wood's response—he didn't expect it by wire—and seeing his disadvantage, he started to run, with Paddy Wood trying to lift him off his feet with every jump.

"As soon as he reached a safe distance from his pursuer, Paddy Plank turned around and uttered this piece of defiance:

"Kape away from me! Kape away from me! or you will have your heart's blood on me hands!"

Brilliant Composer.

There are so many musical luminaries of the name of Strauss—living, dead, and moribund—that it is small wonder that the Frohman announcement of a new Strauss operetta created confused inferences. The operetta bought by Mr. Frohman is by Oscar Strauss—the Austrian composer of "The Waltz Dream," and "The Chocolate Soldier"—who, now in his forty-third year, is composing as brilliantly and as copiously as ever.

Cricket of English Birth. Cricket is the national game of Englishmen, and seems always to have been played in Britain. The first mention of it is found in a manuscript of the thirteenth century. The name comes from the Saxon "cric" or "cryc," a crooked stick—an obvious reference to the bat with which it is played. Wherever the English have colonized the game is played, and in many of the British possessions it has become popular with the natives, notably in New Zealand.
